A unlucky holiday

- This winter holiday, we planed to go to Hainan to had a cool winter camp. But unfortunately, because of that awful virus, we couldn't go there. We could only watch TV at home.

A funny television

- There was a funny television named Chinese Poetry Conference. It was a TV program for someone who like poetry very much, and there were some question to ask them. At last, a man named Peng Min got the Champion.

The horrible virus

- We couldn't go to Hainan because of the horrible virus. It was tiny and it was like a clown. If you got this, your lung would be changed to white! And there wasn't any medicine for it. It may first on a kind of bat. Because of it, many people are sick, nearly 60000 people are sick, 1400 people were die, and only 6000 people were cure. What a horrible virus!

Stay at home

- I stayed at home, and I had some lessons online. I had online English ,program, math, science and Chinese lessons. That was a lot. But I thought I should have more lessons to have. This holiday I didn't often go out, but I think this holiday made me enjoyable, too.
