

ENGLISH READING

AMY LIN
Class 2 , Grade 6

2022.2.10

<DIARY of a Wimpy Kid>

CONTEN

- 01.About the author
- 02.About the main charcaters
- 03.New words and good
- 04.Good sentences
- 05.Interesing parts
- 06.My comments

01 About the author

The author of the <Diary of a wimpy kid> is Jeff Kinney. Jeff Kinney, who was born in 1971, graduated from Maryland State University. He was once rated as one of the “100 influential people in the world” by <Time>.

02 About the main characters

Greg Heffley : He is naughty. He likes opportunism, and he is a bit lazy. He likes playing games, and the study results are not very good. However, he is humorous, kind, clever, enthusiastic, brave and integrity. Therefore, there are still lots of readers like him.

Rowley Jefferson: Although sometimes he has been bullied by Greg, he still regards Greg as his good friend. He is Greg's good friend. He is pure and kind.

Rodrick Heffley: He is Greg's elder brother. He often makes fun of Greg and his friends.

Manny Heffley: Greg's younger brother, his parents cover him in everything he does.

03 New words

figure out: 想出, 理解

cartridge: 墨盒, 弹药筒

imitation: 仿制品

mower: 割草地

suspicious: 令人怀疑的

sermon: 布道, 讲道

stagger: 踉跄, 摇摇晃晃地走

crusty: 投硬皮的, 有外壳的, 易怒的

04 Good sentences

I guess parents thinks they're doing their kids a favour by going through with all that ,but, if you ask me, I think it just causes more problems down the road.

Unfortunately, the Jeffersons got into the picture with me, so now my souvenir keychain is pretty much worthless.

05 Interesting parts

JULY

SATURDAY

Last night I was working on a new comic to replace "Li'l Cutie". I figured there would be a lot of competition for the open slot, so I wanted to come up with something that really stood out. I made up this comic called "Hey, People!” that's sort of like a half cartoon, half advice column. I figure I can use it to make the world a better place, or at least a better place of ME.

I figure since Dad reads the comics, I might as well write a few that were specifically targeted at him.

I would've written a bunch of comics last night, but Sweetie was driving me crazy I couldn't concentrate.

While I was drawing, the dog was sitting on my pillow licking his paws and his tail, and he was really getting into it.

Whenever Sweetie does that, I have to remember to flip the pillow over when I go to bed. Last night I forgot, and when I lay down I put my head right on the wet spot.

Speaking of licking, Sweetie finally kissed Dad last night. It's probably because Dad had crisps on his breath, and I think dogs have an automatic response to that sort of thing.

I didn't have the heart to tell Dad that Sweetie had just spent the past half hour on my pillow licking his rear end.

Anyway, I'm hoping I can write a few more comics tonight, because I'm not gonna be able to get any work done tomorrow. Tomorrow's the Fourth of July, and Mom is making the whole family go to the town pool.

I tried to get out of it, mostly because I want to make it through the summer without having to walk past the shower guys. But I think Mom's still hoping to have one perfect family day this summer, so there's no use fighting it.

06 My comments

From this book, we can learn some truth. Life is not lack of beauty, but lack of eyes to find beauty. We should have a pair of eyes that know how to find interesting things in life. And additionally, adults shouldn't use rigid criteria to judge a child's good or bad, children should be kept in their nature, sometimes they like playing is normal. Don't let them to be the good child in your mind, they should be properly allowed to develop some of their own specialties and hobbies.

THANKS ~