

188 Cold to Now

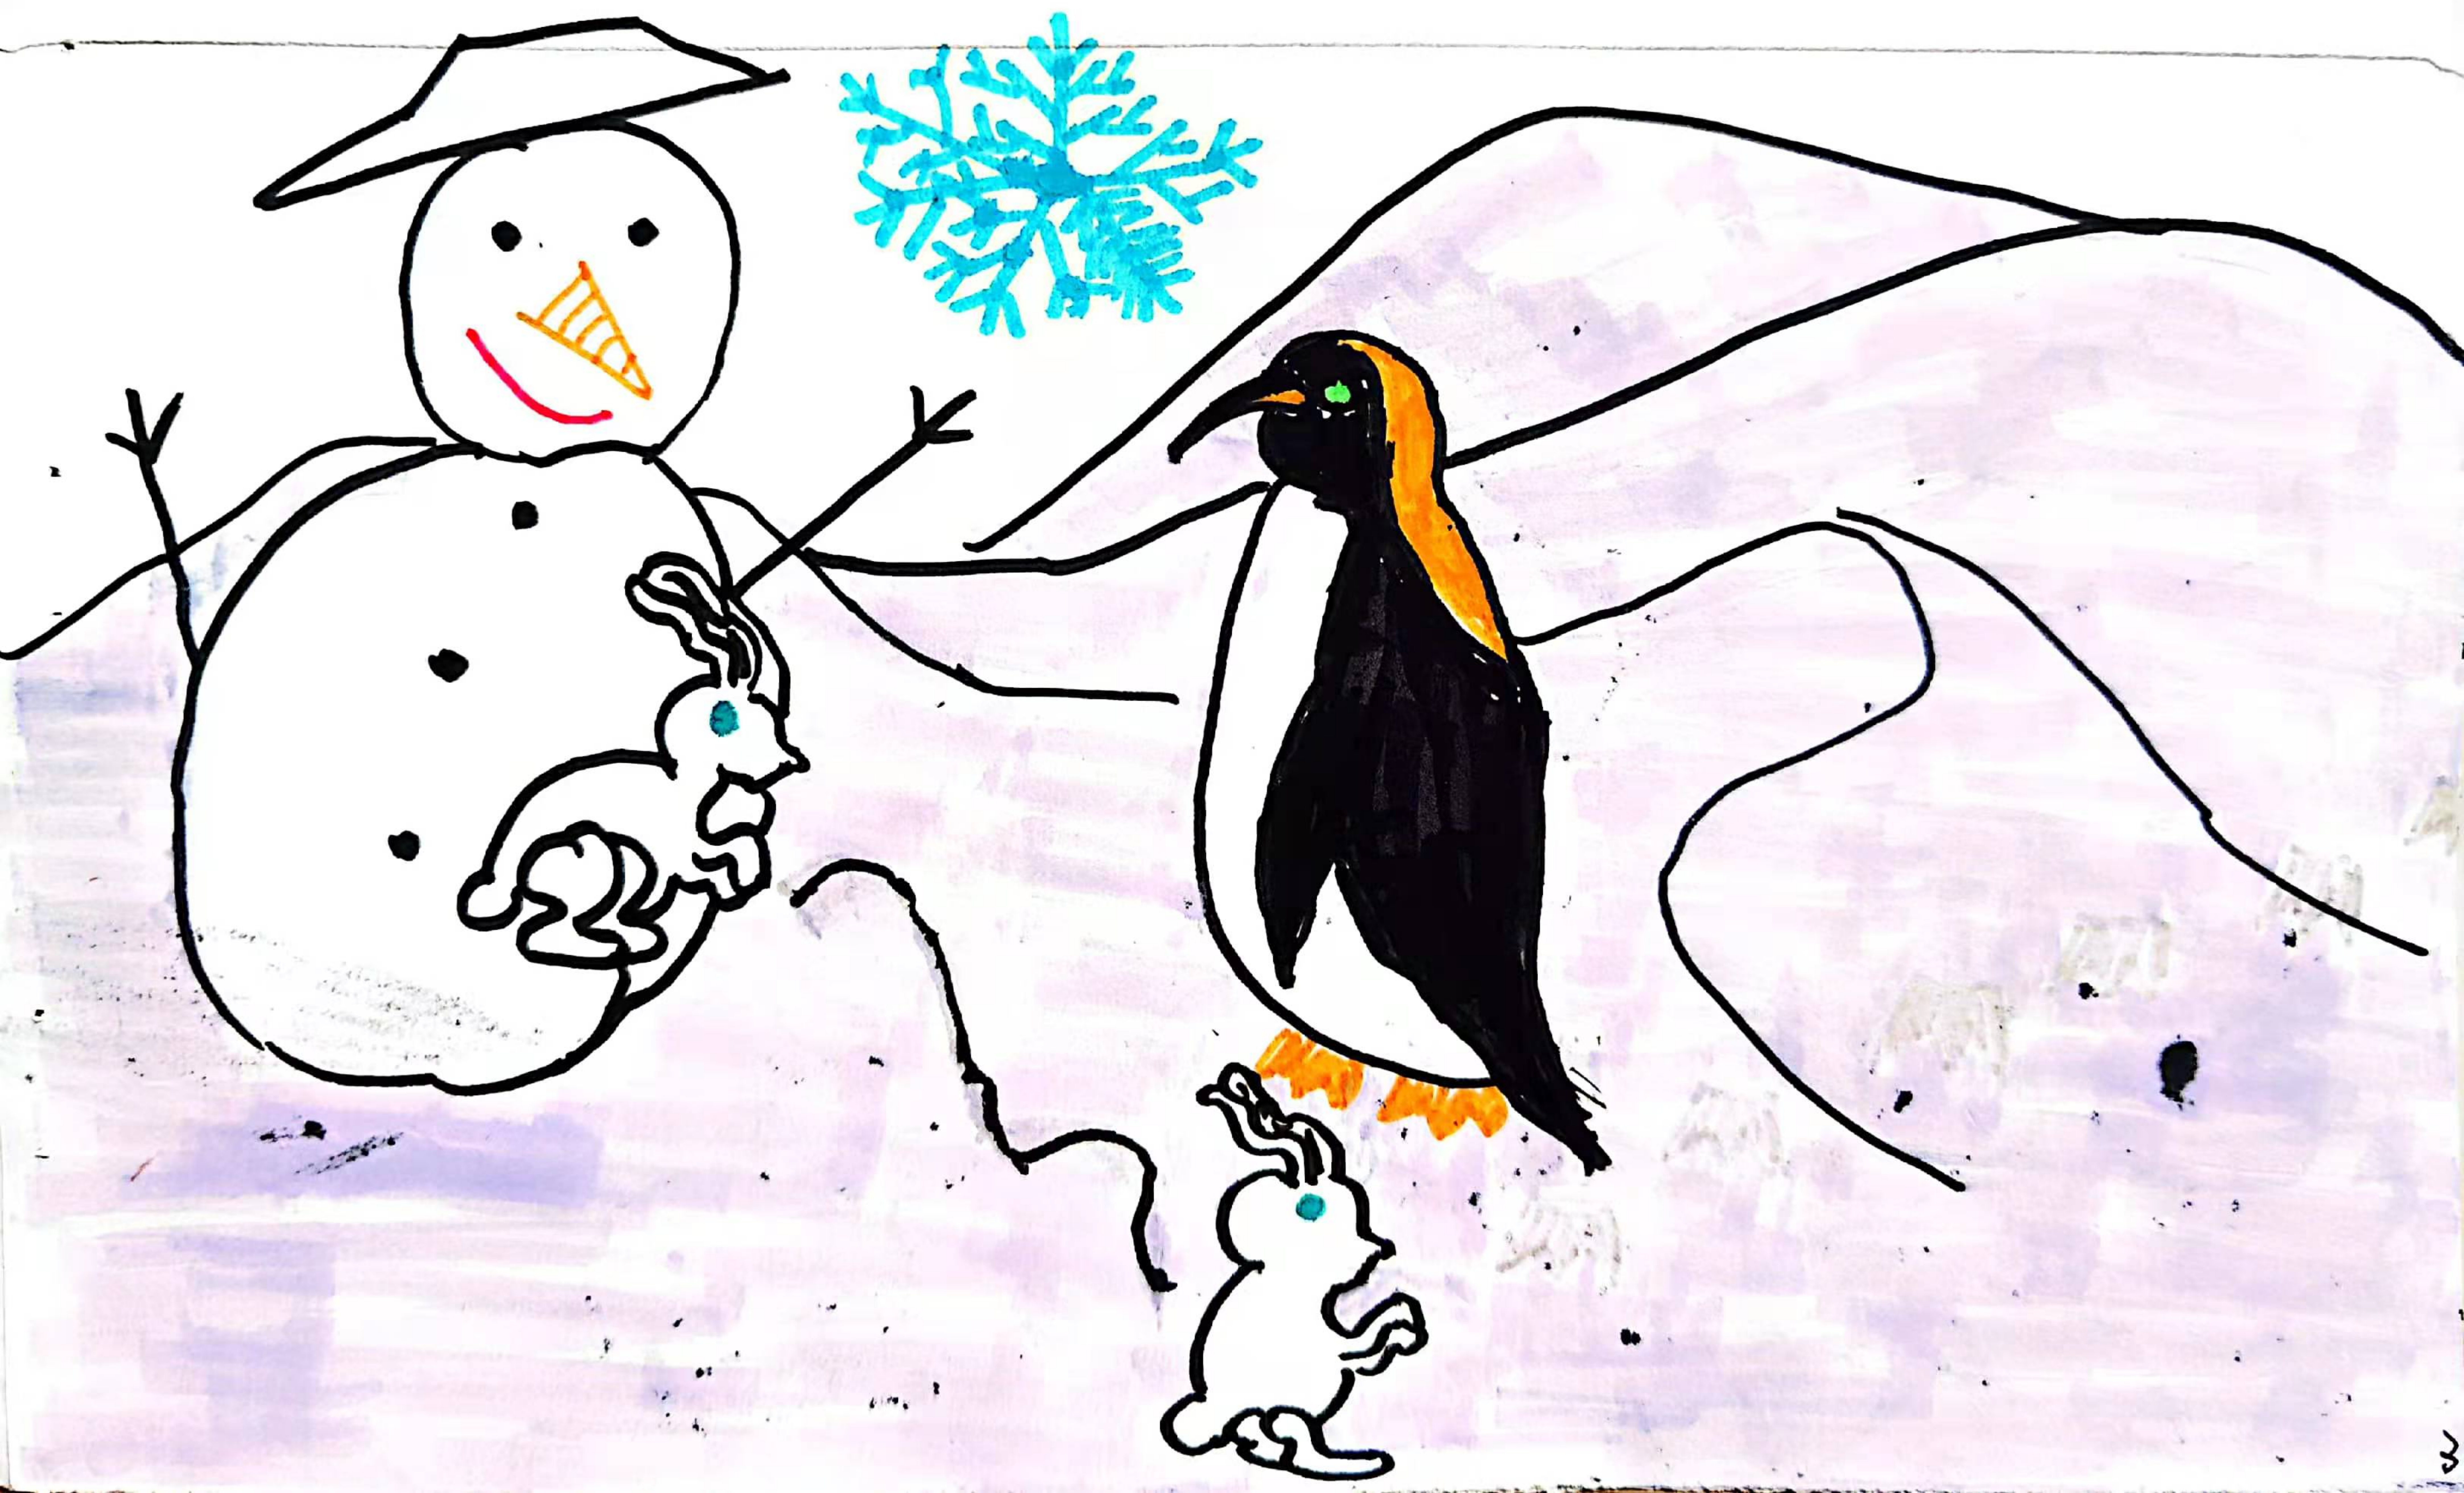

written by Angela Yang
illustrated by Angela Yang

In the winter in the North, where the ice and snow are so cold. Slideitt the penguin likes to slide, slide, slide!
Come and meet her friends in the winter wind. Slide along with Slideitt, the day has just begun!

The snow rabbit jumpitt sat by the snowman.
'Come on, snow rabbit, come with me!'

The polter-bear walkitt is a bear with white furs.
'Follow us!' said the rabbit. 'Follow our track.'

What's the hurry, Slideitt? asked the snow fox in a hole.
Come along, cold fox, join our prade! It's too cold to move!

'Stop it, slide it, stop it!' warned the owl, fly it.
'I can see where you're heading, from high up in the sky!'

Slideitt slide on a tall, wide snow dune top.
He slided off the other side.

They found a warm cave under the dune.

Warm The End

