

written by Grant

illustrated by Grant

Sun and Moon

One day, the sun and the moon were commenting on who had done more.

"I bring light to people during the day and all the sunshine they need. I bring warmth in the winter. That's why I got the most credit!" the sun said

"I have a star at night is not alone, my moonlight became li Bai's catchy silent night thoughts, so I have the greatest credit." the moon said.

"I had the most to do with it!" "No, I had the most to do with it!" Neither of them was convinced, so they decided to take it out on earth.

"You all have the same contribution and you each have your own strengths, so help each other and learn from each other's weaknesses."
the earth said.

At last, the moon and the sun are be good friends.

Sun and Moon

Thaks for watching.

