

Forward Flowers, Backward Flowers

By Shinton

It was springtime. The smell and the sound of spring were everywhere.

Little Bear said to Little Panda,
"Would you like to come to my home?
I will show you the Forward Flowers and the Backward Flowers."

"This kind of black flowers is called the Forward Flowers," said Little Bear, touching a Forward Flower.

"Look! It will move forward if I touch it."

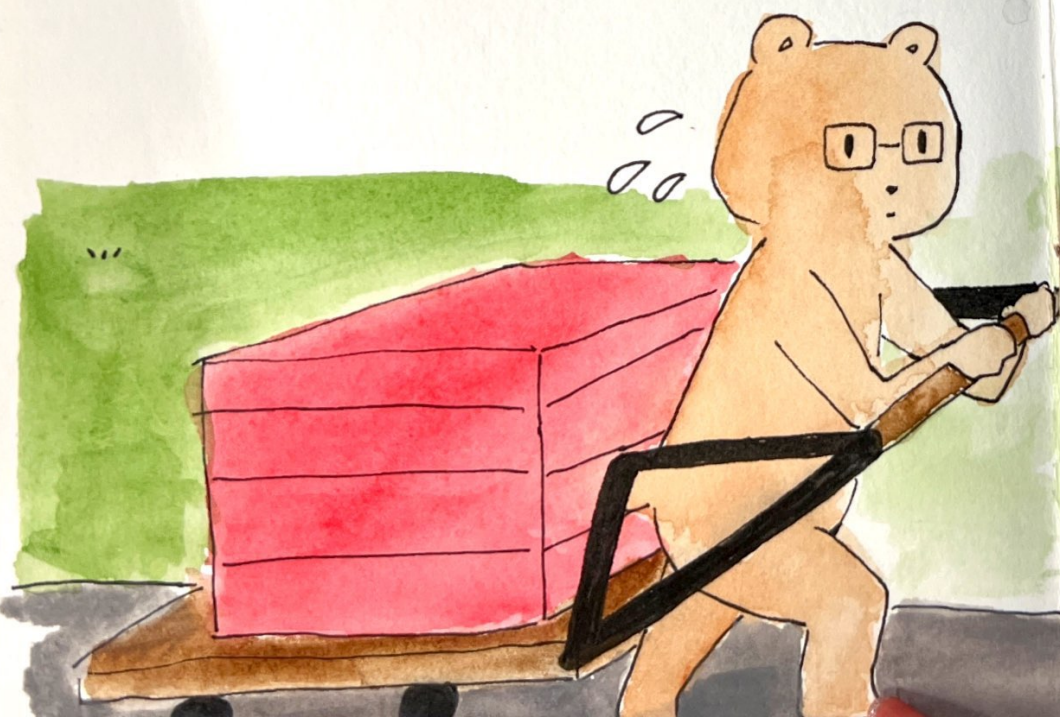

"Meanwhile, this kind of green flowers is called the Backward Flowers. It will move backward if you touch it."

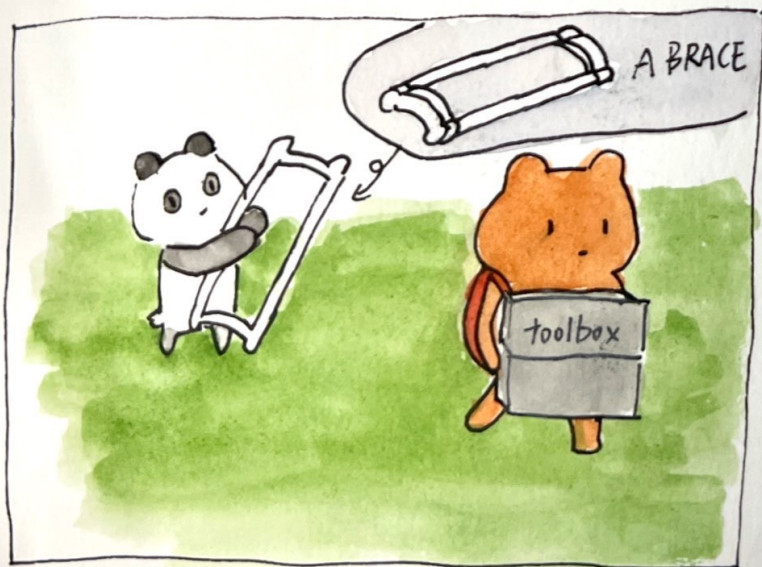

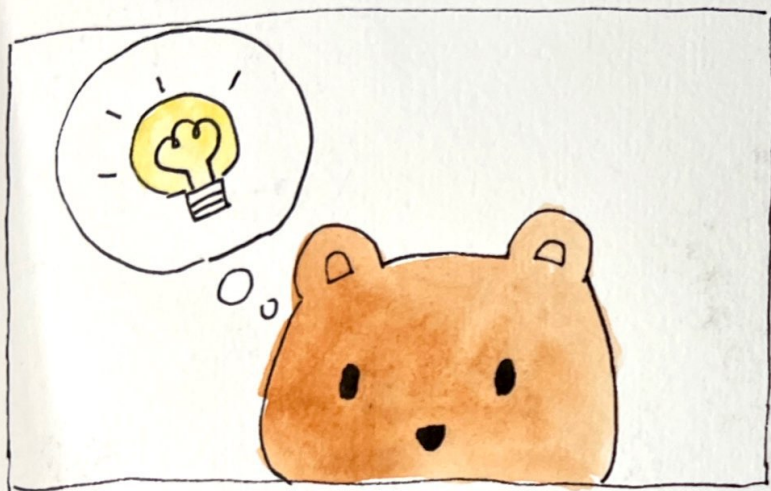

Little Panda was so amazed.

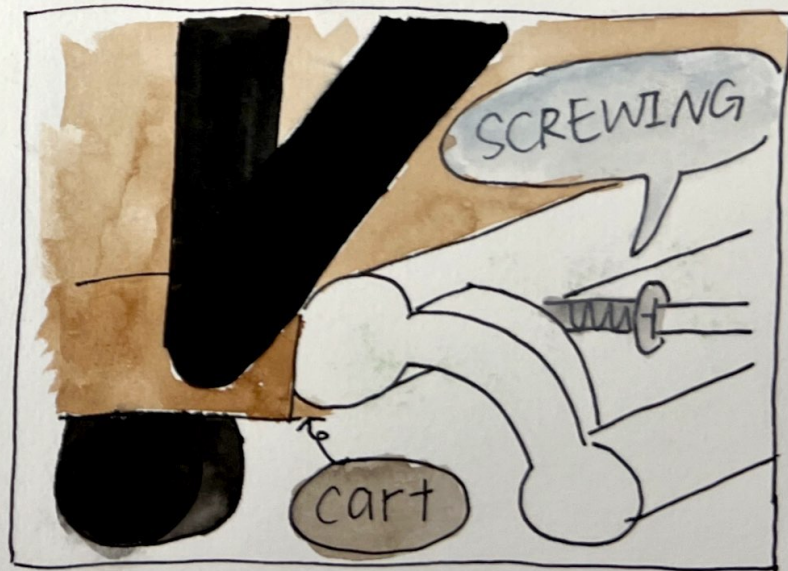

Daddy Bear was pulling goods with a cart.
He worked and worked until his arms ached with tiredness.

Suddenly, Little Bear came up with a wonderful idea ...

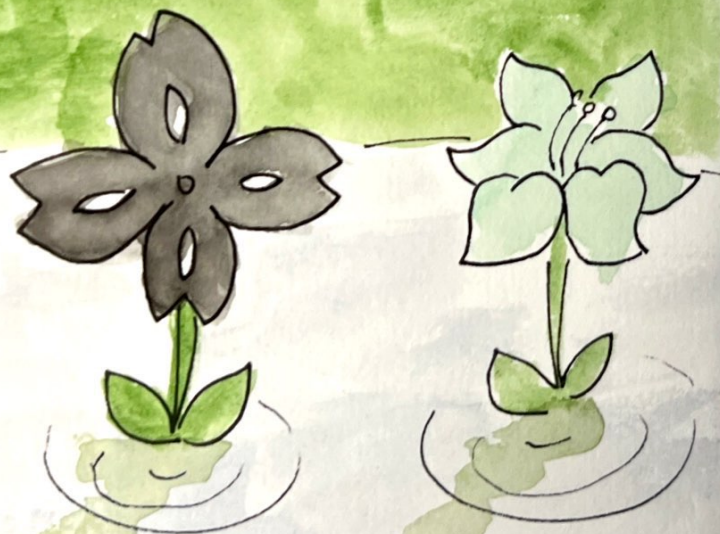

wonderful idea ...

The cart had been modified.
"Forward Flowers, Backward Flowers,
Let's help together!"

The work was over.
“Please have some water,
lovely flowers.”

Good night,
Forward Flowers
and Backward Flowers.
